

The first and last lanes both have the standard.

The second lane is Lambda uncut

The third is the digest with ECORI

The fourth and fifth, (unlike your gels) have another two digests, your gels should have 2 empty control lanes and probably a lane with strawberry DNA in it, which will have a band still very near the well and probably a smear lower down.